National HOMES

You get So Much More from National Homes

SO MUCH MORE in new designs . . . 32 exciting new floor plans and hundreds of exterior design variations by National's master architect, Charles M. Goodman, AIA . . . so much more in luxurious new roominess all through the house!

SO MUCH MORE in precision of National's manufacturing . . . every detail from roof-ridge to threshold pre-tested and quality controlled from start to finish! You get much more in structural strength of completed home! So much more quality starting with top-grade kiln-dried lumber and continuing through to the dramatic new color schemes by National's famed color-stylist, Beatrice West. Whatever you desire a home to be, there's a '55 National for you.

Steps In choosing the home of your life:

First, choose the FLOOR PLAN

The new Nationals come in 32 basic floor plans . . . a wide range of variations. They are grouped here according to size, number of rooms, price range. Turn to the pages showing the plans that meet your requirements, and pick the one you prefer.

Next, choose an EXTERIOR DESIGN that is available for the floor plan of your choice.

Finally, select your EXTERIOR FINISH

The outside of any 1955 National may be covered in your choice of Cedar Shakes, Asbestos Shingles, Masonite Weatherboarding; 4" or 8" Vertically Grooved Plywood.

THE FENMORE

A new plan with living and dining areas flowing together. Kitchen has a very smart lunch bar.

THE FREMONT

In this plan a large utility room is provided. This home is a "closed" plan, with kitchen separated from the spacious living room.

dow section to en-cor Gibson plan.

RANCH DESIGN 53 • In this quietly pleasing "Ranch" design, shuttered windows and flower boxes impart an air of warmth and hospitality.

accented by boldly side end-front en-
plan.

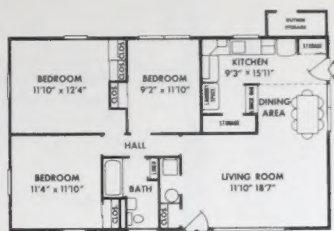

RANCH DESIGN 53-A • Flower boxes and window shutters are featured in this conservative-style model.

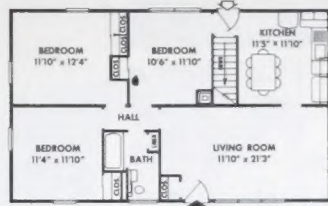

THE FERNBROOK

Here is a basement-type plan with access from kitchen to third bedroom which may be used as dining room.

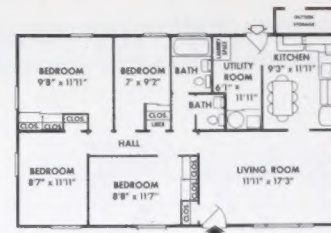

THE GIBSON

Similar to the Fenmore in layout, this larger plan affords more space in living-dining area, kitchen and end bedrooms.

THE GLENBROOK

Another basement plan having all the fine features of the Fernbrook, but with additional length in all bedrooms and living room.

THE LONGFELLOW

Here's a 4-bedroom house for the family that needs more room. This plan takes same designs as 3-bedroom plans shown on these two pages.

RANCH DESIGN 54 • A novel trellis makes this ranch home distinctive, lends itself to rambler roses and other flowering vines.

RANGER DESIGN 40 • Floor-to-ceiling glass walls set off both the living and dining areas in this design; a secluded front terrace is provided by the wood screen fence.

RANGER DESIGN 43 • The glass-walled end in this design can face front, side or rear of lot. Here it opens on a backyard terrace. Available with Fenmore or Gibson plan only.

RANCH DESIGN 55 • Twin trellises atop flower boxes give the effect of old-time bay windows, though contemporary in feeling.

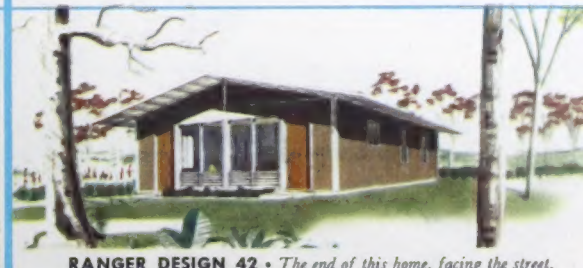

RANGER DESIGN 41 • Below the wide overhang of this home is an unusual trellis that creates an intriguing pattern.

RANGER DESIGN 44 • A low-roofed entrance porch combines with wide-grooved vertical siding to create freshness in this design.

RANCH DESIGN 56 • Modern styling in entrance porch with wide overhang, set off by a graceful trellis that is crisply functional.

RANGER DESIGN 42 • The end of this home, facing the street, is given importance with a wide window wall flanked by gaily toned doors. Available with Fenmore or Gibson plan only.

All designs in the "40" series are "Ranger" style, with extra wide overhang all around—42" on front and rear, 24" on ends.

Designs in the "50" series are "Ranch" style, with a higher roof, which comes shingled to harmonize with your selected color scheme. This style has a 2-foot overhang on front and rear, 1-foot at ends.

ADDITIONAL "Custom-Line" homes on following pages

INSIDE
as well as OUTSIDE, every National home is planned for Pleasant Living

Vertically grooved plywood on one wall of this living room gives added distinction. Floor plan allows for endless variety of furniture grouping.

All National homes feature work-saving, step-saving kitchens. Compact, streamlined, yet containing ample storage space in spick-and-span cabinets, the kitchen pictured here wins approval of modern homemakers.

Your Local NATIONAL HOMES Builder-Dealer will be happy to help you decide, and to quote finished home prices. National's huge buying power plus assembly-line methods gives you more home for less money . . . always!

You will note that "Custom-Line" National homes come in two general classifications of architectural design . . . "Ranger" and "Ranch." The "Ranger" homes are contemporary in style. The "Ranch" homes are a modernized version of the comfort and charm of the classic "Cape Cod" homes of our forefathers.

Both "Ranger" and "Ranch" homes may have either "open" interiors permitting free flow of family activities from area to area of the home or "enclosed" rooms affording cozy privacy preferred by many families.

Here are but a few of the many features that will make your new National home outstanding in livability and value:

- Spacious living areas, featuring abundant closet and storage space. All closets extend from floor to ceiling. Sliding wood doors in the "Custom-Line" bedrooms; bamboo folding doors included in most "Pacemakers," give full access to the entire closet area.

- Big kitchens with efficient layouts, many of a size to permit dining and family recreation area.

- Aluminum sash windows are horizontal sliding type, easily cleaned from inside the house.

All windows are extra large and weatherstripped. Window screens and screen doors with all models. Storm windows and storm-screen doors optional.

- Living rooms have picture windows or ceiling-high glass walls as noted in individual design descriptions. Ceiling high glass walls in "Custom-Line" models feature sliding lower panels of glass, or louvers for ventilation.

- All homes are completely insulated with Fiberglas, assuring maximum economy from the heating plants, which are of latest design. Your choice of automatic oil heat, or gas (where available locally) with thermostatic control.

- All "Custom-Line" homes have king-size medicine cabinet in baths and many have built-in vanities.

- Extra outside storage space for garden equipment, toys, etc., is available through the use of a special unit which may be attached to house or carport. The unit is optional with all models.

It's Easy to Own

the National Home of your choice!

ALL NATIONAL HOMES are eligible for FHA insured mortgage loans under the latest structural engineering bulletin. They invariably require minimum down and monthly payments.

● Due to variations in requirements of different areas, states, municipalities, government insuring agencies and mortgage companies, it is impossible for National Homes Corporation to define the specifications of the finished product. While all National homes are sold by authorized National Homes dealers complete, including wiring, plumbing and heating—ready to live in—variations in specifications may exist. For example, in some cases the house may be sold including rough grading only while others may include seeding or sodding and may include landscaping. Air conditioning, washers, dryers and other appliances may or may not be included in the contract. In purchasing a National home, you should check with your local dealer for a complete understanding as to what items are included in your purchase contract.

● National Homes Corporation reserves the right to introduce changes in plans and specifications without notification and without obligation to include such changes in any National home already delivered. The company further reserves the right to make changes in materials and "brand names" from those described in this brochure without obligation.

● Your National Homes dealer is an independent business man and not an agent, representative or direct employee of National Homes Corporation. In his function of creating your home, he purchases, supervises and is responsible for every detail from the vacant lot to the finished residence. National Homes Corporation is only one of his many suppliers; he buys from them the structural home parts in one complete "package," thus eliminating slow, costly fabrication on the building site.

● Due to variations in local conditions, only your local National Homes dealer-builder can quote completed home prices. His figure is always computed to give you the utmost in value—the lowest possible down and monthly payments. The National Homes way is the way to get more house for your money!

Typical of the charm common to all ranch homes, the cheery bedroom pictured has two beautifully proportioned windows giving access to light and air a-plenty!

Spaciousness achieved through skillful modern design is shown in this interior pictured here. Note the "openness" that permits free flow of family activities from room to room.

BETTER HOMES BUILD A BETTER AMERICA

The distinctive designs in this group are available only with the Glenwood floor plan. An attached garage or carport gives additional appeal; several variations are shown.

THE GLENWOOD

This versatile new plan has a forward-extended bedroom forming an "L," which includes an attractive porch or covered entrance walk.

RANGER DESIGN 45-R3 • In this design the roof of the "L" is carried out over a carport. End of living-dining area faces street.

RANGER DESIGN 45 • This attractive Glenwood home features a glass wall with lower panels that slide open for ventilation.

RANGER DESIGN 47 • Similar to Design 45 but with picture window in living room. Higher bedroom windows make furniture placement easy.

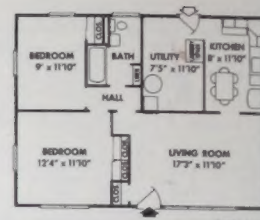

RANGER DESIGN 47-R3 • A variation of Design 47 with carport formed by extending main roof to right of living-dining area.

RANCH DESIGN 57 • Here is a very appealing design. Living room has picture window; low windows in bedrooms.

RANCH DESIGN 57-G2 • Same as 57, but with roof extended to right of living room to provide for an attached garage.

THE ELMHURST

For those who prefer a separate kitchen-dining area. A big utility room with laundry space is provided in this plan.

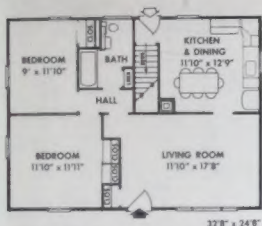

2 bedroom

RANCH DESIGN 50 • The sun-loving family will delight in this design, with its glass-walled living room and big bedroom window.

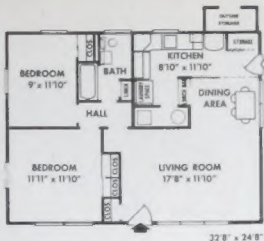

RANCH DESIGN 54 • In this cozy home the modern-styled trellis adds an outstanding note to the attractive exterior.

THE EDGEBROOK

This full-basement plan features an extra large kitchen, with ample room to seat 8 people.

THE EDMONT

Rooms that flow together make this compact plan room and uncrowded. The lunch bar saves steps at mealtime

Designs in this group may be had with the Edgemont, Elmhurst or Edgebrook plan, except for 42, 43 and 52.

RANCH DESIGN 42 • Definitely a house that says, "Welcome." Entrance and glass walls are placed at living-dining end. Available with Edgemont plan only.

RANCH DESIGN 43 • Glass wall at end like 42, but with entrance in long side of home. Available with Edgemont plan only.

"Custom-Line" homes

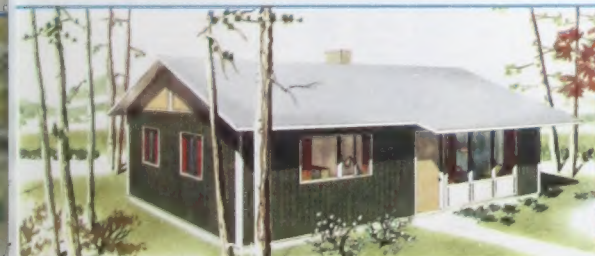

Want a smaller home of real charm and comfort, with spaciousness created by skillful planning? Here's your answer!

RANCH DESIGN 52 • This design has the end facing street, with decorative panel to provide interest. Not available with Edgemont plan.

RANCH DESIGN 40 • Has glass walls with sliding lower panes for ventilation. Either the front or end may face the street.

RANCH DESIGN 51 • Roof projection over the entrance and living-room windows gives shelter to callers, adds smartness.

RANCH DESIGN 53 • Shutters on the low bedroom window and flower boxes on both front windows contribute a "homey" look.

RANCH DESIGN 401 • Very smart and popular in small-home design is this lavish use of glass wall in living area.

RANCH DESIGN 55 • A design of fresh simplicity; flower box under the medium-high bedroom window balances the picture window.

RANCH DESIGN 56 • A handsome porch, harmonizing with the lines of the house and having an unusual trellis. Smart!

RANCH DESIGN 44 • The wide porch with low-slanted roof imparts a sleek modern look. Main living-room windows at side.

"Pacemakers"

Medium Priced Homes

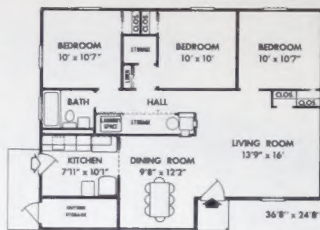

Like all Nationals, the materials and equipment that go into "Pacemaker" homes come from famous brand-name manufacturers. All lumber used is Number One Kiln Dried. From start to finish, the construction of all "Pacemakers" is rigidly quality controlled to give a lifetime of happy, comfortable living.

Like all National Homes, "Pacemakers" are designed by the noted architect, Charles M. Goodman, AIA, and color-styled by America's foremost stylist, Beatrice West.

All "Pacemakers" feature low, sweeping roof lines; and the smart sloping ceilings create an air of unusual spaciousness in all rooms.

This 3 bedroom group includes the Delta, the Dawson, the Dalton, the May-Flower, the Camden, the Cabot, and the Clayton.

NOTE: Window and door arrangements on kitchen end of some floor plans will vary according to the design you select.

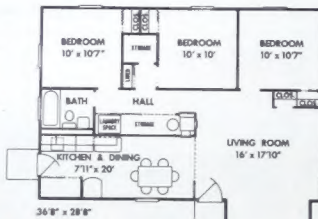

THE DELTA

The glass-walled dining room extends forward from main part of house in this plan, which also provides a big, convenient outside storage area. Available only with Design 34.

DESIGN 34 • The cheerful, forward-projecting, glass-walled dining room gives more light and amazing amount of extra space. Available with Delta plan only.

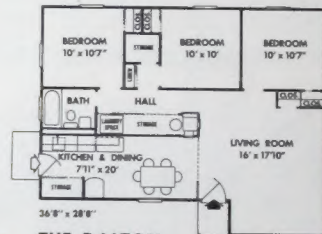

THE DAWSON

With this plan, the living room extends forward for additional space and has two floor-to-ceiling windows. Comes with Design 36 only.

DESIGN 36 • There's more comfort in the extended living room of the Dawson; offset at right front corner adds distinction. Available only with Dawson plan.

THE DALTON

Interior arrangement similar to Dawson, but with big full glass wall across front of living room. With Design 35 only.

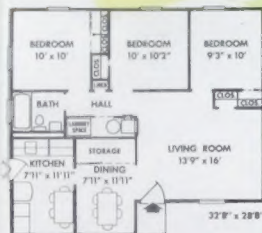

DESIGN 35 • For those who enjoy a living room flooded with sunshine, this design will have strong appeal. Comes only with Dalton plan.

DESIGN 38 • Tall windows are used in the living room of this design, which has a neat entrance porch. With May-Flower plan only.

DESIGN 371 • In this design, the floor-to-ceiling windows give dramatic charm to the forward-projecting dining room. Available with May-Flower plan only.

THE MAY-FLOWER

Here is a compact 3-bedroom plan that includes a separate dining room and "closed" kitchen. With Designs 37, 38 and 39 only.

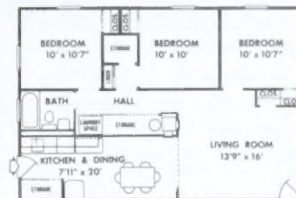

DESIGN 39 • Roof over projecting part of house is extended across entire front to form wide, hospitable porch. May-Flower plan only.

DESIGN 37 • Here the living room has a wide picture window, while the projecting dining room and kitchen are given low windows. May-Flower plan only.

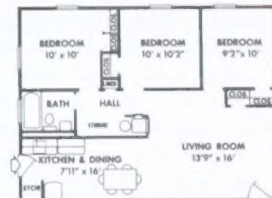

DESIGN 31 • Corner entrance and glass-walled living room are dramatized by an extra wide overhang across this part of front. Camden and Barclay plans only.

THE CAMDEN

For variety, the main entrance in this plan is placed at right front end of house. Living, dining and kitchen areas flow together for roominess.

THE BARCLAY

Lowest cost 3-bedroom house
A plan similar to the Camden but with slightly more compact kitchen and storage. Folding doors across dining area and on closets may be added if desired.

DESIGN 30 • With a trellis at each end, the modern porch on this corner-entrance home adds an original touch. Camden or Barclay plan only.

ADDITIONAL "Pacemakers"

Lowest cost 2 and 3-bedroom homes

This group, which includes the Alton, Avon, Avalon, Barton, Barclay, and Barwick, has the same quality of materials, design, and construction as all National homes. To keep the prices of this group of homes far below any others, it is necessary that certain minor features come to you so that a handy "do-it-yourself man" can complete them at his convenience and to his own taste. For example: Closet doors are omitted. Additional kitchen cabinets and storage may be added. The floor, which is either wood or insulated concrete slab, may be finished later with tile or other types of floor covering. The walls are unfinished gypsum board which may be painted any desired color at a later date. Of course, the homes may be comfortably lived in "as is."

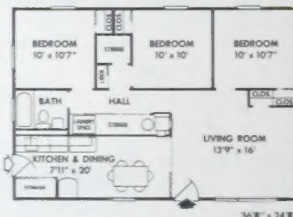

NOTE: Window and door arrangements on kitchen end of exteriors will vary according to plan selected.

All Pacemakers may have optional features added, such as carport, covered terrace, storage unit and wood screen fencing. For additional suggestions see pages 10 to 12.

THE BARTON Lowest cost
3-bedroom house.

This inviting plan has the modern open living-dining-kitchen area popular with many families. With Designs 28 and 29 only.

THE CABOT

Like the Barton but larger, and with additional storage space. Folding doors on all closets. With Designs 28 and 29 only.

THE ALTON Lowest cost
2-bedroom house.

A plan with many space-saving features. Extra storage room is included between the bedrooms. Design 29 only.

DESIGN 29 • Extending from the entrance to the right front corner, an extra wide overhang adds zest to this design. With Alton, Barton, Cabot plans only.

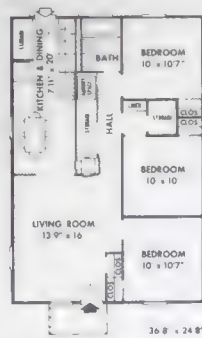

DESIGN 28 • Trimly modern, the low-sloping porch roof in this model harmonizes with the roofline of the house. Available with Barton or Cabot plan only.

THE AVALON Lowest cost
2-bedroom house.
The end of this home
looks toward the street.
A very practical plan.
Designs 32, 33 only.

THE BARWICK Lowest cost
3-bedroom house.
With end facing street;
other features same as in the Barton. Designs
32, 33 only.

THE CLAYTON
This "end-front" plan has handy storage room between second and third bedroom.
Designs 32, 33 only.

DESIGN 33 • Decorative treatment designed for the end-of-the-home—across-the-street gives warm, friendly appearance. For Avalon, Barwick, Clayton plans only.

DESIGN 32 • The crisp lines of the flat-roofed porch are augmented by the trellis on one side. With Avalon, Barwick, Clayton plans only.

DESIGN 301 • A welcoming porch, continuing the roof slope, frames the corner entrance of this model. Available with Avon only.

THE AVON Lowest cost
2-bedroom house.

In this plan, the entrance is located at the right front corner of the living room, which has a long uninterrupted wall for ease of placing furniture.
With Designs 301, 311 only.

DESIGN 311 • Here an extended eave shields the floor-to-ceiling windows and front door of this design. Comes with Avon only.

DESIGN G-3 • This detached garage is suitable for any "Ranch" design house. The breezeway and garage roof are shingled to match house, a wood screen fence encloses the patio.

DESIGN G-2 • A one-car garage attached to the living-dining end of the home, available with "Ranch" design Edgemont, Fenmore or Gibson plan only.

GARAGE and CARPORT variations . . .

DESIGN R-12 • Carport and covered walk attached to the kitchen side of the house, with the living-dining end facing the street. A wood screen fence forms a court on the living-room side. Will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

DESIGN R-13 • Here the carport projects toward the street, forming a garden court with the wood screen fence. House roof extended provides a spacious porch, with storage unit as back wall. Will fit any "Custom-Line" design.

DESIGN R-5 • This arrangement has a separate carport with storage unit at back; wood screen fence along left side of carport and across front of garden court. Will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

DESIGN R-2 • The long roof extension provides for a covered terrace off the living-dining end, and a carport with storage unit. Garden courtyard in front. Available with "Ranger" design Edgemont, Fenmore or Gibson plan only.

DESIGN R-3 • Under the extended roof at the living-dining end is this functional carport, backed by a storage unit. Available with "Ranger" and "Pacemaker" designs.

DESIGN R-4 • This smart-looking combination, with carport, storage unit and covered terrace forming an entrance court, will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

DESIGN G-4 • Here is an attractive two-car garage located at living-dining end; also available with "Ranch" design Edgemont, Fenmore or Gibson plan only.

DESIGN G-1 • This smart flat-roofed garage and covered walk may be had with any "Ranger" design home. It can be located in all positions shown in the Carport series below.

SITE PLANS

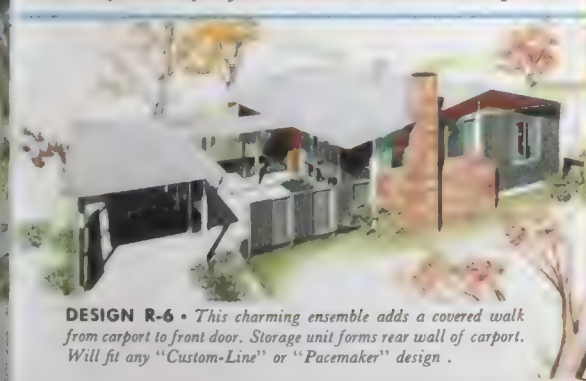

Your new National home may be placed on the lot in any one of several different positions—with the living room facing the front, side or rear—whichever gives the most interesting view. Shown here are two suggestions. Your builder-dealer will be glad to aid you in planning the best arrangement for your new National home.

available on all National homes

DESIGN R-14 • Facing the street is this combined carport and covered terrace. A front-yard "living room" is formed by the wood screen fence. Will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

DESIGN R-6 • This charming ensemble adds a covered walk from carport to front door. Storage unit forms rear wall of carport. Will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

Any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" home may be obtained with a garage or carport in a variety of styles. All these garages and carports measure 24 feet from front to back, ample for even the longest new cars. The designs shown here are available with all models unless otherwise indicated. Wood screen fences may be included with any National home.

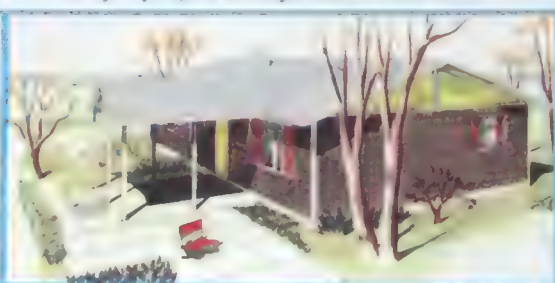

DESIGN R-7 • A different treatment of Design 6, with carport connected to the house by a shorter covered walk. The storage unit and wood screen fence give privacy to the rear garden. Will fit any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" design.

DESIGN P-1 • This 4-foot extension of the roof over the living room and entrance is available with any "Ranch" design. DESIGN P-2 is available for "Ranger" designs.

DESIGN P-4 • Available only with "Ranch" design homes, this attractive porch is suitable for use whether the living room faces front, side or rear of lot.

● One of these distinctive porches will contribute materially to the character and livability of your new National home.

DESIGN P-3 • Here the porch is formed by extending the roof at the living-dining end, which faces the rear garden. With Edgemont, Fenmore or Gibson "Ranger" designs only.

PORCHES and STORAGE UNITS

DESIGN SP-1 • The attached storage unit provides for additional storage if desired. Available for any "Custom-Line" or "Pacemaker" house.

A storage unit provides a convenient place to keep mower, garden tools, lawn furniture, barbecue equipment, bicycles and other outdoor toys. It can be had either as part of a carport as shown on pages 10-11, or separate.

DESIGN SP-2 • This free-standing storage unit permits a passageway to the kitchen entrance and a small back porch. Will fit any "Ranger" or "Pacemaker" design.

OPTIONAL ITEMS

... available at extra cost on all National homes

AIR CONDITIONING—cools and dehumidifies home; costs little more than a single-room window unit; waterless (air-cooled)—requires no water or plumbing; quiet, economical in operation.

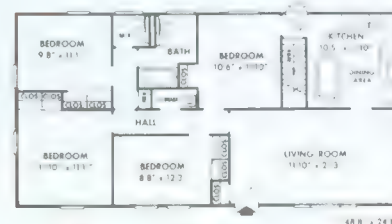

FANS—Attic type, ventilates entire house with complete change of air every minute, for cool living, cool sleeping. Kitchen Exhaust Fan, removes cooking odors.

HOME APPLIANCES—Washer and Dryer or combination Washer-Dryer; Garbage Disposer; Electric Dishwasher.

Storm Windows, Combination Storm-screen Doors.

Larger "Custom-Line" Homes

• If your taste and your desires tend toward more ample living, here are National's finest homes. Luxurious without being ostentatious—bold in conception yet delightfully hospitable—they sound a new note in modern living.

THE Birchbrook

There's abundant space for all the family in this big 4-bedroom plan with bath and a half, and a full basement. Three bedrooms have twin closets; the fourth bedroom, connected with the extra-large kitchen, is ideal as a nursery or for dining.

The all-new 1955 National homes are as distinguished for their smart, spacious interiors as for their exterior beauty.

RANGER DESIGN 40 • Planned for families that love sunlight, this "Ranger" design has ceiling-high windows clear around the corner, turning your living room into a "sun parlor."

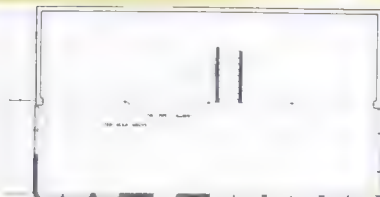

RANCH DESIGN 50-A • Here is a friendly "Ranch" design with the smart four-sided "hip-roof." The bedroom windows are above waist height, for freedom of furniture placement.

RANCH DESIGN 50 • This rambling design reflects a friendly welcome and a wealth of comfort within. Tall living-room windows have ventilating lowers, for summer coolness, winter snugness.

TWO-LEVEL HOMES

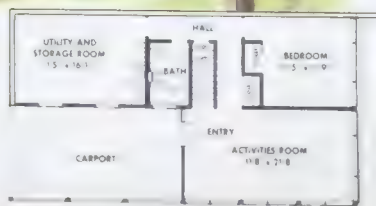

LOWER LEVEL FLOOR PLAN

44'8" x 24'8"

RANGER DESIGN R-27 • A home for your future! This 3-bedroom model for a down slope lot has a full, unfinished lower level, to be arranged later to meet the requirements of a growing family. Carport is on upper level.

RANGER DESIGN R-25 • Your neighbors will look up admiringly at this unique 4-bedroom plan design for an uphill lot. Carport is on the ground floor, which includes an activities room, utility-storage, extra bedroom and bath.

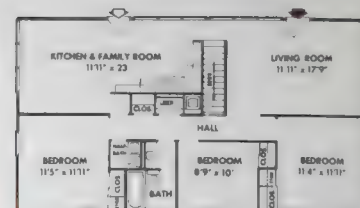

LOWER LEVEL FLOOR PLAN

For a Site on a Hillside, Choose a Dramatic Variation in . . .

THE Hollybrook

Where rolling terrain permits, this brilliant two-level series gives an enchanting answer to your desire for something special in a home. Created to nestle against a slope, the flexible basic plan (above) has numerous lower-level variations giving you the room arrangement of your liking. You may select any lower-level plan on these two pages, with its appropriate design, to form a "Custom-Liné"

Hollybrook. But first—there are two types of hillside lots: down slope sites, with the lot sloping downward from the street; uphill sites, where the lot goes up from the street. With a down slope lot, the carport adjoins the upper floor, letting you drive in at street level. On an uphill lot it is best to have the carport as part of the lower floor. Be sure to keep this in mind when selecting your Hollybrook design.

RANGER DESIGN R-24 • In this hospitable 5-bedroom plan for a down slope lot, front entrance is upstairs. On the lower level, a huge activities room opens on a flagstone terrace. This floor also includes two bedrooms, bath and utility-storage.

LOWER LEVEL FLOOR PLAN

44'8" x 22'3"

RANGER DESIGN R-18 • Reminiscent of an old plantation veranda is the full-length covered terrace of this down slope design, which has four bedrooms. A guest bedroom, bath and activities room on lower floor look out on terrace.

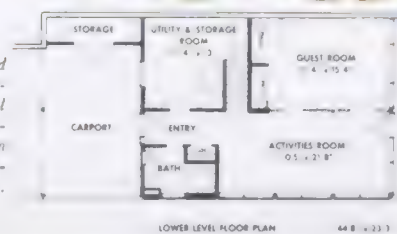

RANGER DESIGN R-17 • There's living a-plenty in this 5-bedroom plan, adapted to an uphill lot. The lower floor contains two bedrooms, bathroom, workroom-study, as well as a carport.

RANGER DESIGN R-20 • Attractive brick walls and a sunken terrace in this very livable 3-bedroom plan, designed for a gentle down slope lot. Carport is in the upper level. The unfinished lower level will afford ample area for activities room, extra bedrooms later.

RANGER DESIGN R-26 • A sheltered patio at the lower level is provided by the extension of the brick siding and the retaining wall in this 4-bedroom uphill model. The glass-walled activities room has folding doors to form a spacious guest room. The lower floor also includes carport, bathroom and ample storage.

THE Hanover

A bath and a half, a big "family room" combining kitchen and recreation area, and three bedrooms away from the rest of the house, are features of this comfortable floor plan.

THE Canterbury

In this 3-bedroom, 2-bath floor plan, hospitality is the keynote. A full-depth living room, with or without fireplace, extends to the dining area and kitchen which are joined by a lunch bar.

THE Devonshire

Four bedrooms, two baths, and a spacious living room feature this design. The bedrooms are kept apart from the living quarters by a separate entrance and hallway.

● Here are homes that blend for family fun and entertaining, but with bedrooms secluded from the social area. These models are of the "open" type, and feature a liberal use of glasswork. You'll be proud and happy with whichever floor plan and design you choose for your new home.

RANGER DESIGN R-12 • Here the house takes to the right, with a swimming pool and entrance porch joined to it. A simple yet very attractive design.

RANGER DESIGN R-13 • Impressiveness is given this design by the use of a large porch and a garden court. The house is built on a lot with a garden court toward the street.

RANGER DESIGN R-14 • The design and construction of this house is a simple matter. It is a model, which has an enclosed garden court.

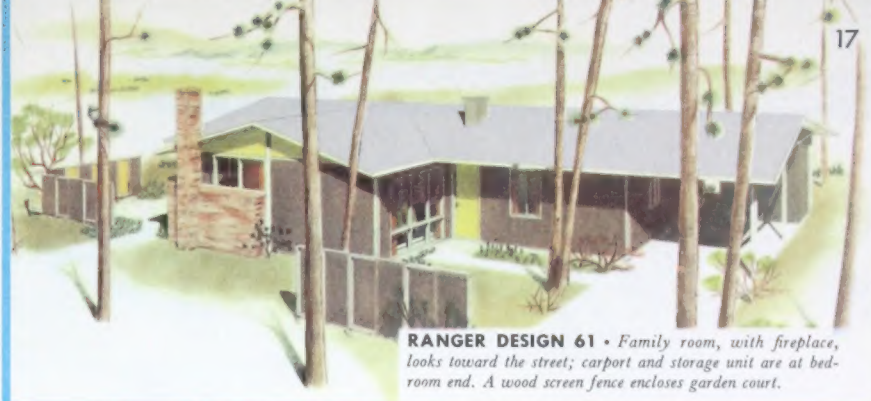

RANGER DESIGN R-15 • In this dramatic design, a covered terrace and a large open patio are enclosed by a wood screen fence.

RANGER DESIGN R-4 • Outdoor-indoor living is a theme captured by this design, which shows a modern house, a large porch, covered terrace, and a garden court.

RANGER DESIGN 60 • A carport and covered terrace extend toward the street from the family room in this handsome design. The garden court at right is shielded by the wood screen fence and storage unit.

RANGER DESIGN 61 • Family room, with fireplace, looks toward the street; carport and storage unit are at bedroom end. A wood screen fence encloses garden court.

RANGER DESIGN 62 • A secluded garden court and a 2-car carport face the street in this picturesque design. The carport is formed by continuing the roof of the family room.

THE Ambassador

An elegant 4-bedroom plan with two baths, the Ambassador offers bountiful indoor-outdoor living for the larger family. The T-shaped floor plan permits many individual variations.

RANGER DESIGN 63 • Another "front-yard living room"—with roof extension of family room forming a combined covered terrace and carport. The storage unit at end toward street helps give privacy.

RANGER DESIGN 64 • This design includes a 2-car garage attached to the family room. Full-length windows at both ends of the family room afford views front and rear.

RANGER DESIGN 65 • In this design an extension of the living-room roof provides a combined carport and covered terrace. A front-yard patio promises fun a-plenty!

THE Greenbriar

● Here is a glamorous 3-bedroom plan of breath-taking spaciousness! Between the far corners of the living room and family room is an expanse of over 50 feet! Two baths; twin or triple closets in each bedroom. The living-dining-kitchen area and huge family room blend for informal, relaxed living.

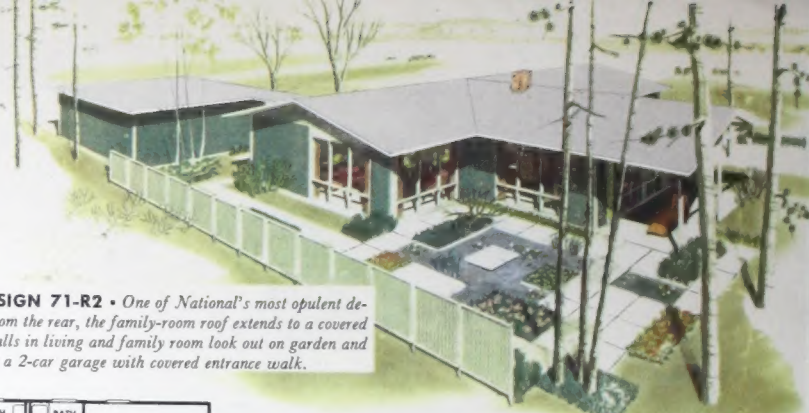

RANGER DESIGN 73 • In this design, the bedroom end is toward street, with 2-car garage off family-room. An enclosed front court is formed by the wood screen fence; at rear is a covered terrace.

with "interior" fireplace located on inside wall between family room and dining area.

RANGER DESIGN 71-R2 • One of National's most opulent designs. As seen from the rear, the family-room roof extends to a covered terrace; glass walls in living and family room look out on garden and pool. In front is a 2-car garage with covered entrance walk.

RANGER DESIGN 72 • Looking toward the street, you see at right a 2-car carport with storage unit; at left, covered terrace under extension of main roof. This dramatic design assures ample privacy for outdoor relaxation and entertaining.

with "exterior" fireplace located on outside wall of living room.

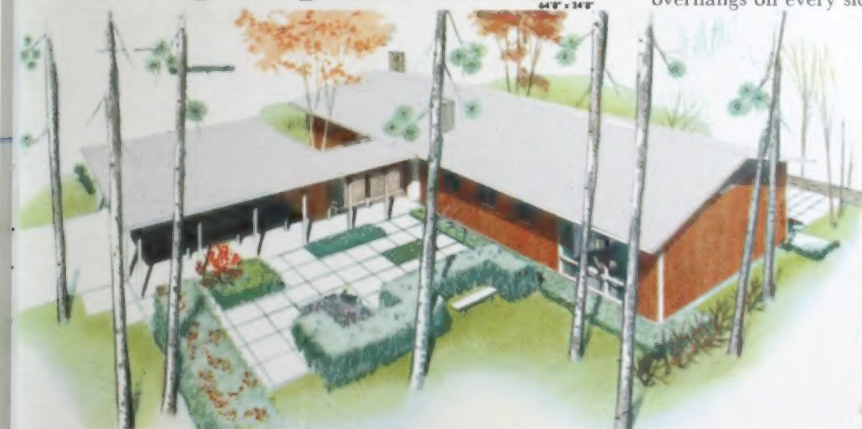

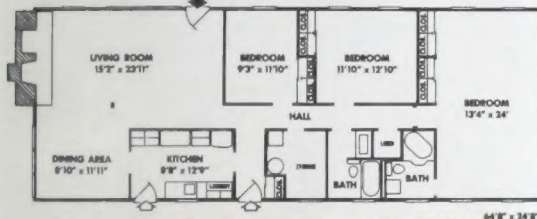

RANGER DESIGN 71-R1 • Here is a very appealing design as seen from the street, with a 2-car carport and covered walk leading to the living-room entrance. The storage unit at rear of carport helps shelter the rear garden court where family activities center.

RANGER DESIGN 70 • For those who do not require a carport or garage. This design has the family room toward street, shielded by wood screen fence. Lavish use of glass walls gives views in all directions.

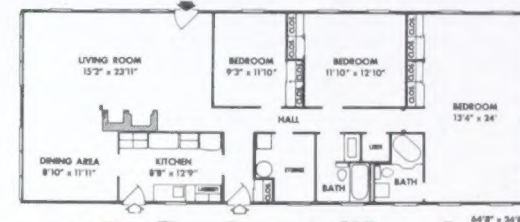

RANGER DESIGN 67 (Rear) • From this angle you can note the floor-to-ceiling windows in living room and all bedrooms, overlooking the "living terrace." The low, seat-high wall enhances the effect of an outdoor living room!

RANGER DESIGN 67 (Front) • Like a manor is the front view of this design with its 2-car carport, covered walk, and paved entrance court. The master bedroom, at right, has two sets of twin closets.

RANGER DESIGN 66 (Front) • In this regal design, a 2-car garage is included, with an entrance walk alongside and an attractive entrance courtyard, shielded by a wood screen at the right.

RANGER DESIGN 66 (Rear) • With the "interior" fireplace, this outstanding design adds more glass-wall surface in its living room, affording a broader view of the backyard garden court. Here truly, you may discover a lifetime of pleasant living!

THE Broadmore

This luxurious 3-bedroom home provides a more formal kind of living for the smaller family. It has two baths, a spacious living room with dining area, and a huge 24-foot master bedroom. The fireplace may be located either on outside wall (as at left) or on inside wall (as at right).

Designs on this page are "Ranger" type, with wide overhangs on every side.

ALL NATIONAL HOMES are eligible for FHA insured mortgage loans under the latest structural engineering bulletin. They invariably require minimum down and monthly payments.

● Due to variations in requirements of different areas, states, municipalities, government insuring agencies and mortgage companies, it is impossible for National Homes Corporation to define the specifications of the finished product. While all National homes are sold by authorized National Homes dealers complete, including wiring, plumbing and heating—ready to live in—variations in specifications may exist. For example, in some cases the house may be sold including rough grading only while others may include seeding or sodding and may include landscaping. Air conditioning, washers, dryers and other appliances may or may not be included in the contract. In purchasing a National home, you should check with your local dealer for a complete understanding as to what items are included in your purchase contract.

● National Homes Corporation reserves the right to introduce changes in plans and specifications without notification and without obligation to include such changes in any National home already delivered. The company further reserves the right to make changes in materials and "brand names" from those described in this brochure without obligation.

● Your National Homes dealer is an independent business man and not an agent, representative or direct employee of National Homes Corporation. In his function of creating your home, he purchases, supervises and is responsible for every detail from the vacant lot to the finished residence. National Homes Corporation is only one of his many suppliers; he buys from them the structural home parts in one complete "package," thus eliminating slow, costly fabrication on the building site.

● Due to variations in local conditions, only your local National Homes dealer-builder can quote completed home prices. His figure is always computed to give you the utmost in value—the lowest possible down and monthly payments. The National Homes way is the way to get more house for your money!

Typical of the charm common to all ranch homes, the cheery bedroom pictured has two beautifully proportioned windows giving access to light and air a-plenty!

Spaciousness achieved through skillful modern design is shown in this interior pictured here. Note the "openness" that permits free flow of family activities from room to room.
